

FLEA

1.4: Frozen Living Pictures

Successful frozen living pictures should have the four elements listed below. Be sure that the good citizenship scenarios that you create have each of these elements. Remember, that you will also need to create an “I hope . . .” statement for the character you are representing in your picture.

Focus

Group members should not be scattered throughout the room but within a defined performance space so the picture has a focal point that draws viewers in.

Levels

Group members should pose at different levels—sitting, kneeling, leaning, standing, etc.—to increase visual interest.

Expression

Each member should display an intentional and meaningful expression; these expressions an inappropriate smile or scowl can weaken the power of the image.

Action

At least one group member should be frozen in a physically active task.